

ROUND TABLE PANEL MEMBERS

- Steve Brown Former Democratic State Senator from Helena, 1979-1983
Chaired the Ad Hoc Committee on Election Reform created by Gov. Thomas L. Judge to revise and strengthen the reporting of campaign contributions and expenditures and created the office of the Commissioner of Political Practices (1974-75). Served as retained counsel for seven Commissioners of Political Practices, beginning late in the term of Dolores Colburg and ending early in the term of David Gallik.
- Jonathan Motl Current Commissioner of Political Practices. JD William Mitchell College of Law 1975. Work History: Citizen groups 1974-1981, Reynolds and Motl law firm (Helena, MT) and successor firms 1982 to 2013. Author of 9 citizen initiatives in Montana.
- Linda Vaughey Former Commissioner of Political Practices, 1999-2004.
1999 to present: Managing Partner, Montana Vaughey Family Partnership, LLP. Manage partnership investment interests in oil and gas exploration and real estate. 2008: Regional Director, Montana State Republican Party 1996 to 1998: Member, Montana State Tax Appeal Board 1995 to 1996: Owner/operator, oil and gas exploration business
- Chris Gallus Attorney and lobbyist currently practicing in Helena though he represents clients from across Montana and nationally. Specializes in election law and campaign finance. 1996 graduate of the UM Law School. Author of ballot issues, legislation and client specific compliance manuals. Advises clients on compliance with CPP laws and rules, and defends clients appearing before the Office of Political Practices.
- Chuck Denowh Montana Group consulting firm. Former Exec. Dir. of Republican Party
- Lorna Kuney Campaign financial compliance reporting last 15 years. Treasurer of multiple campaigns. Former Executive Director Lewis & Clark County Red Cross.
- Tim Warner Campaign manager and communications consultant. Plazby Solutions, LLC, Montana. Directs and manages advertising, creative design and social media outreach campaigns, in collaboration with partners, on behalf of clients.